

Overview

We represent employers in all aspects of litigation arising out of the workplace. Our lawyers seek resolutions tailored to our clients' unique objectives, relying on extensive experience in state, federal, and administrative courts. They also provide pre-litigation counseling and advice, helping clients with investigations and other risk mitigation activities.

The firm's broad-based Employment Litigation Practice includes:

- Pre-litigation counseling, advice, and investigations
- Litigation of employment-related disputes, including wrongful discharge, discrimination, and retaliation, in state and federal courts
- Litigation of administrative complaints, including whistleblower complaints, before local, state, and federal agencies
- Arbitration of employment, contract, and compensation disputes
- Employee benefits advice and litigation
- Enforcement of confidentiality, non-compete, and related obligations
- Class action matters, including FLSA cases
- Injunctions and temporary restraining orders

Allison B. Williams

Team Leader

(304) 933-8144

allison.williams@steptoe-johnson.com